BOB FITZSIMMONS.

To-day "Bob" Fitzsimmons occupies a sell at Police Headquarters on a charge of mansiaughter, having struck a blow on the stage of the Jacobs' Opera-House that resulted in the death of "Con" Riordan, of California, his sparring partner.

The dead man had been travelling with the Fitzsimmons Vaudeville and Bpeciality Company, giving exhibitions with Fitzsimmons. The company opened here, for Thursday night. Riordan, it is claimed, had been drinking heavily. He gave evidences of his condition as he walked onto the opera-house stage, but he was allowed to enter the bout. It was known, it is alleged, that he had taken a big drink of whiskey just before the performance. Dazed and almost unconscious he stood up before Fitzsimmons. There were a few exchanges, and then Fitzsimmons, with a quick pass, landed on Riordan's jew with his right.

There are differences of opinion as to the force of the blow, but it was sufficient.

Riordan reeled and fell to his knees. Then he toppled over like a dead man Dunfee stood in the wings, saw it all and when Riordan's body had been removed, went on and gave an exhibition of his provess so the very spot.

The audience was worked up to a turor of excitement. Boys and men stood up in their seats and shouted. Back in the wings the unconscious man lay in his ring contume with two physicians vainly endeavoring to bring him stood with two physicians vainly endeavoring to bring him seats and vainly

The injured man breathed his last at 1.50 o'clock this morning. After I o'clock he began to such rapidly, respiration growing fainter with every minute, until finally, with a few spasmodic contortions, he died. The physicians, a few members of the company and Mrs. Fitzsimmons were present. It is claimed that Riordan concealed his real condition from the stage manager, who would have prevented his appearance had he known it. After two minutes of hot work Fitzsimmons feinted with his left and landed heavily on Riordan's jaw with his right. Riordan staggerd for a moment and can toppied over. He was knocked out, and the stage hands did not know what action to take. Some suggested that it would be wise to lower the drop curtain, but this was not done.

Fitzsimmons finally got Riordan on his feet, when the latter gave a lurch and fell prome to the floor, where he say unconeclous. He was rolled off the singe.

The accident, occurred at 10.30

when it was extended at the call of time.

The news of Riordan's death was conveyed to Fitzsimmons at Police Head-quarters by "Yank" Sullivan and Joe Dunfee. Sullivan entered the room first and in as quiet a way as possible said. "Bob. Con is dead. He died despite all the efforts that were made for him by the doctors, about five minutes ago."

Fitzsimmons gave a start in his chair. "You don't mean to say he is really dead? I can't believe it. It does not seem possible."

"Yes, Bob: he died without once regaining consciousness, and it cannot be helped."

Now that Gov. Flower has refused the require the Attorney-General or a deputy office and of election day frauds, the members of the LXX, are in favor of presenting evidence to the Governor to show that District-Attorney Fellows could not be depended on to conscientiously prosecute these cases.

Governor, and then have him direct the Attorney-General to conduct the prosecutions. The objection to this course, as pointed out by members of the LXX. to-day, is that after the first of the year there may not be a Grand Jury so favorable for reform as that drawn for the December term. In this Grand Jury there are the names of Charles Stewart Smith, Chairman of the Committee of LXX.; Francis H. Leggett, John Sloane, Theodore B. Woolsey, E. W. Bloomingdale, J. E. Quintard and George De Forest Grant.

It is argued that all of these would have no mercy in the consideration of officials charged with guilt, and that therefore Fellows should be downed at once to give way to some prosecutor who would not shield Tammany men.

When spoken to about he matter to-day Joseph Larocque, who was chairman of the Committee that waited on Gov. Flower last evening, and he thought that some decisive action should be taken at once.

"We thought," he said, "that there should be some one designated to prosecute delinquent officials who could devote his entire time to it, and who is not afflicted with Tammany, as is District-Attorney Fellows.

"It is not probable then that action will be delayed until Morton becomes Governor," asked the reporter.

"It hardly think so," replied Mr. Larocque, "I cannot, however, speak for the Committee. We have not yet taken any action, and until that time I do not care to express even a private opinion about what should be done."

Other members of the LXX. were equally unwilling to be quoted at present, but a number expressed the private opinion that the most practical course is to bring such an array of evidence that Gov. Flower will not be able to dodge the issue.

Inquiry among half'a dozen of the large banks downtown showed that much the same feeling generally exists. The bankers say a good gold deposit is their stock in trade with some of their interior customers, and they can't afford to desirry the confidence it carries in order to pull the Government out of a hole, at the risk of loss to themselves.

"Patriotism," which was the moving power in placing the last loan, cuts but little figure this time. Bankers consider that the last fifty-million loan acted as only a temporary benefit, and they can see no other way in which to regard the forthcoming issue.
